I downloaded this game one late night because I was depressed and this game seemed to relate to me a bit. So I said why not and gave it a shot. I then proceeded to walk slowly through a beautiful and peaceful game while a man expressed his story of his own problems. I related and understood this man so much and I truly was affected by the way he thought. I personally had made many of the decision he had made when he was depressed and I learned many helpful ways to help me as well. I love this game and it shall forever be one of the dearest games in my heart. Thank you Alexander Tarvet for sharing your father's experience and helping me with my own. Thank you from the bottom of my heart.
